

72. Database methodology according to claim 70, further comprising the step of transmitting the positional coordinates and the location through a port connected to the database, the port having a user interface which permits entry of information by the user.

73. Database methodology according to claim 70, wherein the step of receiving comprises the step of utilizing one or more of a modem and a fax machine.

74. Database methodology according to claim 73, wherein the step of receiving comprises the step of utilizing a session manager for responding to requests at the database and for forwarding data requests and other information to servers connected with the database..

No additional fees are deemed due in this matter. However, the Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge any fees which may be due in this matter from deposit account 12-0448.

Respectfully submitted,

Lappin & Kusmer LLP
200 State Street
Boston, MA 02109
(617-330-1301)

Dated: August 28, 1997

Curtis A. Vock
Curtis A. Vock
Reg. No. 38,356
Attorney for Applicants